Episode One – Koko the Gorilla

I hope you're enjoying tonight's edition of the Zain Africa Challenge. Our teams are brilliant.

Now, playing the game calls upon knowledge from many fields of study and from everyday life.

As a mwalimu, Kiswahili for teacher, it gives me great pleasure to see that these students have mastered so many diverse facts and concepts.

Koko, a lowland gorilla born in 1971, was taught sign language and has a working vocabulary of some 1,000 signs and understands about 2,000 words of spoken English.

She speaks in sentences, generally from three to six words in length.
